

ACHSE Trans Tasman Aged Care Study Tour Brisbane and Auckland 18-23 November 2007

Suitable for: Aged Care managers, funding and planning managers, policy makers and health professionals working in the aged care industry in Australia and New Zealand.

Objectives

- Broaden participants knowledge and understanding of national/international policy and trends in aged care and its impact across the health and aging sectors,
- Explore and examine models in New Zealand and Australia of aged care delivery in short-term and long-term care settings e.g. community and home based care, residential, hospital and palliative care;
- Provide regional, national and Australasian networking and information exchange opportunities;
- Contribute to the development of a pool of aged care leaders in the New Zealand and Australia who have an understanding of Australasian aged care funding, policy, issues and service delivery models;
